

Recruiting Smart People

by

Jove Fontagne

© <http://astronaut-training.org>

Dr. John Emil Petersen III, M.S., Ph.D. (<http://n-dtech.com/contact/jpetersenResumeMay2023B.pdf>) would like to invite intelligent people from all of the world to move to Corpus Christi, Texas. Formal higher education is necessary if you are older than twenty years old. Respecting local laws and customs, ability and desire to work hard, creative and technical ability, ability to defend yourself, sufficient monetary resources to live comfortably for one full year, and legal work status in The United States of America are required. Feel free to visit ahead of time. Recruitment is limited to Asia Major, Western Europe (excluding Italy), Latin America, North America, Africa (excluding South Africa), and Australia. Immigration from California, New York, or Illinois is discouraged. Ability to speak proper English or Castilian Spanish is required.

John is a native third-generation Texan, on both sides of his family. Throughout his life in Texas (42 years, besides a total of about three years traveling the world), he has observed immigration from all over the planet from people who not only do not respect local laws and customs, but infiltrate the government and business community with an agenda contrary to bettering society.

John has a number of plans in place to incubate ideas which will stimulate economic growth in a modern global society – including, but not limited to: quaternary computing, robotics, engineering, alternative (green) power generation, theoretical think-tanks, health centers, revolutionizing social media and private communication protocol, and eventually, interstellar space travel.

An oppressive militant government (both local and federal), parasitic and criminal business enterprises, along with brainwashed citizens stifle growth in The United States of America. Moving here may be dangerous, due to nearby warring factions. However, not only is global stability at stake, but so is the global economy. Intelligent law-abiding people are required to further economic growth.

Business development will take time. If you are not patient, do not bother coming. The goal of this recruitment flyer is not to maximize profits, but to better society in North America. Small business incubation centers, membership-based maker centers/workshops, and technical training centers are planned for the long-term future. Entertainers are welcome to join the propaganda campaign, assuming they can follow local laws and customs.

Contact Dr. John Emil Petersen III directly, for more information:

PO Box 60256
Corpus Christi, Texas 78466
ceo@n-dtech.com
(520)304-7534